MARSHALL HAS A PLAN

The President of Council Will Not Let it Down.

HE HAD A ROAD LAST NIGHT

Council Looked at it for a Short Time and Then Passed the Resolution—Peach Tree Alley and Tan Yard Run Bob up With Regularity—Other Business of Importance Transacted by Council.

The East End road project will not down. It bobbed up in council last night with macadam trimmings and met with a favorable reception. It furnished the most interesting talk of the evening at the regular meeting of the city fathers.

Messrs. George and Peake were the only absentees and the meeting started out with an apparent rush of business, which disappeared, however, toward the latter part of the session.

A petition signed numerously by East End property holders stated that they were willing to grade and pave the sidewalk along the road from McKinnon's to the school house and wanted the street car track raised to a level with the grade. President Marshall thought council should visit that street in a body at 5 o'clock Saturday evening and it was so decided. Messrs. Stewart and Owen, the committee to investigate toward securing a suitable building for the sprinkler, street sweeper, etc., reported that the McDole property, alongside the fire station, was the best and cheapest, being offered to the city for $1,800, including the ground. Mr. Kent thought it would be a good move to purchase the place recommended. He was tired of having the street commissioner's tools left standing about the streets at night. Mr. Stewart said he thought it was cheap and would be centralizing the city buildings. His idea was that by adding another story all the street commissioner's tools and wagons could be placed there, and the different places they are occupying at considerable expense could be released. Mr. Kent said the building occupied by the extra hose cart and other city property was provided with only one door, and it was about five feet from the ground, so that if the hose was needed in a hurry it would be hard to get at. He moved that they purchase the McDole building. The motion carried and the matter of purchase was left with Messrs. Owen, Peake and Stewart.

Mr. Kent said that he and Mr. Challis and the street commissioner had made a tour around the city, and that street work was progressing nicely.

Then Mr. Stewart called for a report of the committee on Avondale street improvement. Mr. Owen, who had taken the chair a few moments before at the request of President Marshall, explained that the committee had failed to get together. Mr. Stewart promptly moved that the committee be discharged and a new one appointed "that would act." Messrs. Challis, Stewart and Horwell were appointed the committee, with Solicitor Clark and Engineer George. President Marshall said the Avondale street matter should be rushed, in fact a special meeting should be called this week, as the work will cost $2,000 or $3,000 if delayed until Nov. 1.

A resolution to grade and lay sidewalks from Mulberry street on Penn avenue to the west end of the school house property, was passed. Then came the East End road project in a new shape. A resolution was introduced declaring it necessary to improve the East End hill road from lot 1589 to a point in front of the East End school house by macadamizing to a width of 30 feet. Mr. Kent seconded Mr. Marshall's motion to suspend rules and place on second reading. Mr. Stewart was suspicious that that meant passing the resolution. Mr. Marshall explained that it was provided more for the engineer furnishing an estimate of work and probable cost by next council meeting. In two or three places, he said, it would be necessary to condemn strips of land running across the road where no right of way had been secured. He assured Mr. Stewart that it called for no immediate issue of money. Just then the electric lights faded slowly and the council room was in the gloaming. The city fathers smiled and Dr. Marshall modestly acknowledged the apparent compliment of the electric light company in recognizing his electrifying power of speech by giving way to him. Although it is not customary to suspend rules on a resolution, Solicitor Clark decided that it would be better to do so and the resolution passed.

An ordinance providing for grade lines on First avenue in East End was placed on first reading, after it was explained that this street should have been visited by council, but they evidently forgot it. A resolution declaring it necessary to lay sidewalks on Greasley street to Trentvale street was passed, and an ordinance condemning property from Pleasant street to the Lisbon road was passed under suspension of the rules, because Solicitor Clark said it was necessary, and the ground could be secured at a low figure. Then came the extension of Fourth street. It has been in council so long, and so much has been said and written about it that council seemed ready to do something when the subject was mentioned.

The president thought it would be advisable to borrow $2,000 instead of issuing bonds sufficient to pay for the improvement, and get a little, so they could start to work without delay. He moved that the mayor and clerk be instructed to borrow money, and for the benefit of those who had forgotten, the clerk gave them a list of the people affected. They are Golding & Sons, William Curry, Mrs. A. V. Thompson, J. M. Aten, Davidson heirs, Specialty Glass company and the Cleveland and Pittsburg. Stewart could not understand why they did not borrow enough when they were at it to pay for the whole improvement. Instead of only a part, and the president explained that the Specialty had agreed to bear a portion of the expense by building the culvert, which was no small part of the expenditure. But council had dilly dalled so long with the matter that he feared the Specialty would tire of the offer and withdraw it. He had been working to have the project carried out for two years, and he knew others had been doing their best for ten years. Then the president explained what the $2,000 would do, and the motion carried.

Clerk Hanley gave a report on the East End road election, and there was silence before it was accepted. Bids for the improvement of Ridgeway avenue and Land's End street were opened, and the contract awarded to Thomas McLaughlin at 18 cents. The other bidders were Harrison Rinehart, who wanted to do it for 22 cents, and J. C. Nisson, who was willing to take the work for a cent more on the yard. The bids for the grading of West Market and Peake streets showed that McLaughlin wanted 40 cents for the work and Rinehart asked 46. Stewart objected to the bids, remarking that he had heard a contractor say he could do it for 30 cents, but for some reason he was not present, and he moved the bids be rejected. Council agreed with him, and other bids will be taken.

Attorney Brookes was present, and presented the claim of Harriet Woodburn for damages to the amount of $5,000 because she fell through a defectively covered sidewalk in front of the property of Delia Morris, on Walnut street, last June. Clark advised that the claim be turned down, since it is clear that Delia Morris is liable if the damages can be placed on anyone. Stewart moved to that effect, and council agreed with him.

President Marshall sarcastically called the attention of council to Peach Tree alley. He believed they had heard of the place, and if he remembered right they had visited it on an occasion or two. It was an outrage, he said, on the people who were compelled to live along the filthy place, for it was in awful condition. Water flowed along its dirty surface, and filth was thick at all times. Engineer George here remarked that while it was named after the peach it did not throw off the perfume of the peach blossom. A sewer was needed there, and one that would carry off the water. Challis moved the sewer be constructed, and at the suggestion of the doctor it was also decided to fill the alley to grade. Challis also moved, and the motion prevailed, that the water works board be instructed to raise the pavement after pipes have been put in. The cases cited where the improvement is needed are on Seventh street and at Broadway and Third. Meantime President Marshall had been thinking of the action regarding that alley, and was not content to let it rest as it was, so moved that a resolution be passed, for he believed the work would amount to more than $300, and the resolution passed. Challis wanted to know how the Avondale people were to have improvement made on their street when it was necessary to have some property, the deed for which was at that moment in the pocket of Peake, who sat beside him. Council realized that it was illegal to proceed without the document, and as Peake manifesting no desire to make the city a present, the matter was dropped. A building on the run that crosses Huston road and owned by Mr. Morton caused some discussion because it was said to be sinking, but council wisely let it alone, since it was

FASTBINDER IS FAST

BOUND OVER TO COURT

And Because He Did Not Have $5,000 For Bond He Was Locked Up—The Cutting as Trappe and Hale the Wheelmen, Saw It.

Grant Fastbinder, the man who cut Rit Meador at the Anderson house on Sunday afternoon, is now in the county jail, in default of $5,000 bond, waiting for the grand jury to pass on his case.

It was decided yesterday that Fastbinder should have a hearing, and as Meador could not go to city hall, Fastbinder was taken to the Anderson. The hearing was conducted in Meador's room, and Attorney Brookes appeared for the defense. The testimony brought out was clear and plain, and the mayor did not hesitate in sending the accused to Lisbon.

The first witness was Frank Trappe. He said that he and Hale were in their room opposite Meador's on Sunday afternoon when Fastbinder came to the door. The witness remarked that he believed he would shave himself, and Fastbinder offered him a razor he had in his vest pocket, but he would not shave until the next day. Fastbinder then crossed the hall, and rapping on the door, was admitted. Then the door was closed, and the boys heard nothing for several minutes, when loud talking sounded in the room. They could not distinguish what Fastbinder was saying, but heard Meador say, "No, I didn't say it. Go to bed and take a sleep, and sober up. You'll know what you are talking about in the morning." Then they heard a crash, and rushed in the room. Meador was on one knee by the window, and Fastbinder was laying on the floor striking at him with a razor. Meador was holding his hands back, and there was blood on the floor. They pulled Meador away, and he ran to the door. As he moved, what looked like a cloud of blood spouted out on the floor. Then he went out of the room, and Fastbinder started after him. They saw the razor in his hand, but did not realize what had happened. In the meantime Meador had gone into another room, and Fastbinder walked down the stairs with the razor in his hand, and although urged by several people not to go out, went down the street and crossed the river. Hale gave in substance the same story, and stated that as far as he knew, there was no quarrel between the men.

Meador said that he and Fastbinder had laid on the bed together early in the afternoon, but the other had gone out, and he had locked the door. After he admitted the man, Meador sat by the window and Fastbinder accused him of calling him vile names. He denied it, and then Fastbinder said he had called him a coward, when Meador told him to go and lay down. Fastbinder was standing by the bed, and Meador was still in his seat, when the former took out his razor, and the other thought he was going to shave himself. Then he looked out of the window again; but hearing a noise he turned and saw Fastbinder coming toward him. In an instant he had caught up the chair and felled his assailant to the floor, where he held him down until Hale and Trappe came in. There was no quarrel or hard feeling between them, he said, and he could not account for the assault. Fastbinder had nothing to say at the hearing, and never changed his expression when he heard Mayor Gilbert's decision.

When giving his evidence, Trappe expressed it as his belief that Fastbinder was drunk, which will make an interesting question for the grand jury to handle—that of where he got the liquor. The attending physician was not consulted before the hearing, but it is thought that Meador will not experience much difficulty because of the excitement. Chief Gill took Fastbinder to Lisbon today.

A WELCOME.

The Phoenix Club Entertained New Members Last Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Simmers and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sebring were the guests of the Phoenix club last evening, the function being a welcome for the gentlemen, who are members of the organization, and their brides. The rooms were tastefully and beautifully decorated, and the colors of fall were everywhere. Great bunches of golden rod and fern occupied gardeners in all the corners, the chandeliers were trimmed and draped with smilax, and a bank of green, the monotony of which was relieved by potted plants and asters, almost hid the piano from view. When the guests arrived the tables were prepared, and at 9:30 o'clock the party of almost a hundred sat down to supper. Nestertions were the decorations and favors. The bridal party were welcomed, and an hour and a half consumed in disposing of the banquet, while merry laughter and the music of Wolf's full orchestra filled the cosy apartments with delightful music. Dancing became the amusement before midnight, and was carried on until a late hour. The reception was among the most perfect in appointment and highly enjoyable ever held in the city. The guests from out of town were Miss Anna Pugh, of Gas Valley; the Misses Stewart, Fairview; W. J. Murphy and George Anderson, Pittsburg.

AN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY.

The Wedding of Mr. William Farrell and Miss Bridget O'Keefe.

The most impressive ceremony seen in the city for years was the marriage at St. Aloysius church this morning of Mr. William Farrell and Miss Bridget O'Keefe.

The church was well filled with friends of the contracting parties when the bridal party appeared, and the beautiful music floated through the room. The scene about the altar was solemn yet accompanied by all the pomp of the Catholic church. The ceremony was performed by Father Patrick Farrell, a brother of the groom, who resides in Cleveland, and the address was made by Mgr. Thorpe, who as the representative of the bishop was arrayed in the rich, purple robes of his office. After the ceremony solemn nuptial mass was said, and the bride and groom were showered with congratulations from their many friends. The music was very good, Miss Gertie DeTemple singing as she has seldom sung before in public, and the well trained choir put forward its best efforts. The guests in attendance were Father Veby and Monsignor Thorpe from the cathedral in Cleveland, Father Murphy of Pittsburg and Father Halligan of Wellsville. The happy young couple will make their home in this city, where they have a wide acquaintance.

Patrick Foley, one of the most prominent Democrats in Pittsburg, a relative of the groom, was among those present at the wedding.

Well Started in Life.

Reverend Whitehead last night at 8 o'clock said the words which joined for life the affections of Mr. Harold Milligan and Miss Minnie Sidwells, both of this city. The ceremony was passed through in the presence of a large number of friends, at the residence of the bride's parents in California hollow. After a sumptuous wedding feast the young people were driven to the station and left on a wedding journey. They are popular with many friends, and it is earnestly hoped that they will have a happy wedded life.

AFRAID OF THE NUMBER.

He Changed the Plates On the Hotel Table.

A popular member of the theatrical company now playing in the city is superstitious so far as the number 13 is concerned, and in carrying out his superstition the other day caused no end of amusement in the dining room at the Thompson house. Clothed in the dignity which his part on the stage demands and a neat suit of clothes, he walked into the dining room with stately tread, and seating himself at the table, counted the plates. It was a long table and there were just 13 plates on its snowy surface. His face paled and he glanced nervously around. Then arising, still with dignity, he moved to the next table, and carefully taking up a plate moved it to his own. Then he sat down, and a smile of content wreathed his handsome face. He had killed the hoodoo.

TWO WOMEN.

They Have an Assault and Battery Case Before the Mayor.

Elizabeth Dawson charges Caroline McCroy with an assault and battery in the court of Mayor Gilbert, and if the trial will be anything like the description of the fight there will be lively times at city hall. McCroy came to the city hall, and told the mayor that Mrs. Dawson had come into their yard and accused his wife of departing from the truth. Hence the fight, hence the suit.

A GOOD ATTENDANCE.

It is Promised For the Republican Club Meeting.

Every Republican desirous of seeing a good club in the party should be present at the meeting at city hall this evening. The movement is a worthy one and should not be forgotten.

Attorneys Ask a New Trial For McGregor.

NO DECISION FOR A WEEK

Hon. R. W. Taylor Forcefully Put the Side of the Wellsville Man, Covering the Case Completely, While Prosecutor Speaker Only Gave a Brief Statement, More Evidence.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Sept. 25.—In circuit court this morning the motion for a new trial in the McGregor case was argued, the attorneys for each side doing their best to convince the court of the justice of their respective claims.

The motion for a new trial was based on the insufficiency of the evidence on which to support the verdict. Hon. R. W. Taylor opened for McGregor, and covered the case from every standpoint. He reviewed the case for the benefit of the court, and charged error in several instances, based on rulings of Judge Billingsley, chiefly in small technicalities of law. Apoplexy was made to appear the cause of Lizzie Ewing's death in every argument for the motion. Prosecutor Speaker and Mr. Carey, for the state, made a plain statement, and argued that the verdict was in accordance with the facts brought out at the trial. It now rests with the court, but it is thought that nothing will be made known until early next week.

Persons who should be in position to express an honest opinion and know the law, can not see how the court can give McGregor another trial; but Prosecutor Speaker does not fear even that, should the court so decide. He says they have abundant evidence that was not brought out at the last trial, witnesses that were not dreamed of then having been found, and they will talk.

ARE WE A CITY?

If They Hang Clothes Lines in the Street We Are.

A peculiar sight was that witnessed by people who chanced to walk along Jefferson street yesterday. Some good housewife was washing, and, not having sufficient space in the back yard, had stretched her clothes lines in the street. They were tied between telephone poles and trees, and the clothes, neat and clean, fairly whistled as the breeze swept up the street and through every hole in the numerous mysterious looking garments on the lines. It was a sight that would have brought joy to the Wellsville heart, for it is certainly anything but the act of a city to allow clothes lines to be hung in a street as prominent as the one in question. More than one man swore softly under his whiskers as he gazed upon the unusual sight.

WANTS A DIVORCE.

Mrs. Mackey Will Quit Her Husband Soon.

Mrs. Mackey, who has been before the public several times because of her husband and Mrs. Coulson, has sold her saloon on Broadway and will quit the saloon business forever. With tears in her eyes she told a reporter that she was also going to quit her husband because he has not lived up to the agreement she enacted when the last settlement was made. Mrs. Mackey says she has never had any peace since she started the saloon, but she has done her best to get along, and now that it has been a failure and her efforts have come to naught, she will ask the court for a divorce.

TO MEET AGAIN.

The Clerks Are Bringing Them All Into the Fold.

The clerks have their union in such condition now that another meeting will be held in Ferguson & Hill hall on Friday evening. All the business is in good condition at present, and the new unionists have been doing some quiet missionary work since the last session. It is expected that 15, at least, new members will be initiated on Friday evening. A prominent professional gentleman suggests that the clerks organize a literary society in connection with the union, and make provision for their mental as well as their financial welfare.

STRIKE STILL ON.

Potters Come From Akron to This City.

Anthony Smith, one of the striking potters of the Akron plant, was in town today, having come here before going to New Cumberland, where he has secured employment. With him came James Curren, James Kelly and Walter Anson, who have been working at the plant, but quit on Saturday. The strike is still unsettled, but the pottery is in operation, only a few men being out.

Fastbinder then crossed the hall, and rapping on the door, was admitted. Then the door was closed, and the boys heard nothing for several minutes, when loud talking sounded in the room. They could not distinguish what Fastbinder was saying, but heard Meador say, "No, I didn't say it. Go to bed and take a sleep, and sober up. You'll know what you are talking about in the morning." Then they heard a crash, and rushed in the room. Meador was on one knee by the window, and Fastbinder was laying on the floor striking at him with a razor. Meador was holding his hands back, and there was blood on the floor. They pulled Meador away, and he ran to the door. As he moved, what looked like a cloud of blood spouted out on the floor. Then he went out of the room, and Fastbinder started after him. They saw the razor in his hand, but did not realize what had happened. In the meantime Meador had gone into another room, and Fastbinder walked down the stairs with the razor in his hand, and, although urged by several people not to go out, went down the street and crossed the river. Hale gave in substance the same story, and stated that as far as he knew, there was no quarrel between the men.

Meador said that he and Fastbinder had laid on the bed together early in the afternoon, but the other had gone out, and he had locked the door. After he admitted the man, Meador sat by the window and Fastbinder accused him of calling him vile names. He denied it, and then Fastbinder said he had called him a coward, when Meador told him to go and lay down. Fastbinder was standing by the bed, and Meador was still in his seat, when the former took out his razor, and the other thought he was going to shave himself. Then he looked out of the window again; but hearing a noise he turned and saw Fastbinder coming toward him. In an instant he had caught up the chair and felled his assailant to the floor, where he held him down until Hale and Trappe came in. There was no quarrel or hard feeling between them, he said, and he could not account for the assault. Fastbinder had nothing to say at the hearing, and never changed his expression when he heard Mayor Gilbert's decision.

When giving his evidence, Trappe expressed it as his belief that Fastbinder was drunk, which will make an interesting question for the grand jury to handle—that of where he got the liquor. The attending physician was not consulted before the hearing, but it is thought that Meador will not experience much difficulty because of the excitement. Chief Gill took Fastbinder to Lisbon today.

A WELCOME.

The Phoenix Club Entertained New Members Last Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Simmers and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sebring were the guests of the Phoenix club last evening, the function being a welcome for the gentlemen, who are members of the organization, and their brides. The rooms were tastefully and beautifully decorated, and the colors of fall were everywhere. Great bunches of golden rod and fern occupied gardeners in all the corners, the chandeliers were trimmed and draped with smilax, and a bank of green, the monotony of which was relieved by potted plants and asters, almost hid the piano from view. When the guests arrived the tables were prepared, and at 9:30 o'clock the party of almost a hundred sat down to supper. Nestertions were the decorations and favors. The bridal party were welcomed, and an hour and a half consumed in disposing of the banquet, while merry laughter and the music of Wolf's full orchestra filled the cosy apartments with delightful music. Dancing became the amusement before midnight, and was carried on until a late hour. The reception was among the most perfect in appointment and highly enjoyable ever held in the city. The guests from out of town were Miss Anna Pugh, of Gas Valley; the Misses Stewart, Fairview; W. J. Murphy and George Anderson, Pittsburg.

AN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY.

The Wedding of Mr. William Farrell and Miss Bridget O'Keefe.

The most impressive ceremony seen in the city for years was the marriage at St. Aloysius church this morning of Mr. William Farrell and Miss Bridget O'Keefe.

The church was well filled with friends of the contracting parties when the bridal party appeared, and the beautiful music floated through the room. The scene about the altar was solemn yet accompanied by all the pomp of the Catholic church. The ceremony was performed by Father Patrick Farrell, a brother of the groom, who resides in Cleveland, and the address was made by Mr. Thorp, who as the representative of the bishop was arrayed in the rich, purple robes of his office. After the ceremony solemn nuptial mass was said, and the bride and groom were showered with congratulations from their many friends. The music was very good, Miss Gerlie DeTemple singing as she has seldom sung before in public, and the well trained choir put forward its best efforts. The guests in attendance were Father Veby and Monsignor Thorpe from the cathedral in Cleveland, Father Murphy of Pittsburg, and Father Halligan of Wellsville. The happy young couple will make their home in this city, where they have a wide acquaintance.

Patrick Foley, one of the most prominent Democrats in Pittsburg, a relative of the groom, was among those present at the wedding.

Well Started in Life.

Reverend Whitehead last night at 8 o'clock said the words which joined for life the affections of Mr. Harold Milligan and Miss Minnie Sidwells, both of this city. The ceremony was passed through in the presence of a large number of friends, at the residence of the bride's parents in California hollow. After a sumptuous wedding feast the young people were driven to the station and left on a wedding journey. They are popular with many friends, and it is earnestly hoped that they will have a happy wedded life.

AFRAID OF THE NUMBER.

He Changed the Plates On the Hotel Table.

A popular member of the theatrical company now playing in the city is superstitious so far as the number 13 is concerned, and in carrying out his superstition the other day caused no end of amusement in the dining room at the Thompson house. Clothed in the dignity which his part on the stage demands and a neat suit of clothes, he walked into the dining room with stately tread, and seating himself at the table, counted the plates. It was a long table and there were just 13 plates on its snowy surface. His face paled and he glanced nervously around. Then arising, still with dignity, he moved to the next table, and carefully taking up a plate moved it to his own. Then he sat down, and a smile of content wreathed his handsome face. He had killed the hoodoo.

TWO WOMEN.

They Have an Assault and Battery Case Before the Mayor.

Elizabeth Dawson charges Caroline McCroy with an assault and battery in the court of Mayor Gilbert, and if the trial will be anything like the description of the fight there will be lively times at city hall. McCroy came to the city hall, and told the mayor that Mrs. Dawson had come into their yard and accused his wife of departing from the truth. Hence the fight, hence the suit.

A GOOD ATTENDANCE.

It Is Promised For the Republican Club Meeting.

Every Republican desirous of seeing a good club in the party should be present at the meeting at city hall this evening. The movement is a worthy one and should not be forgotten.

FIGHTING FOR JESSE

Attorneys Ask a New Trial For McGregor.

NO DECISION FOR A WEEK

Hon. R. W. Taylor Forcefully Put the Side of the Wellsville Man, Covering the Case Completely, While Prosecutor Speaker Only Gave a Brief Statement, More Evidence.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Sept. 25.—In circuit court this morning the motion for a new trial in the McGregor case was argued, the attorneys for each side doing their best to convince the court of the justice of their respective claims.

The motion for a new trial was based on the insufficiency of the evidence on which to support the verdict. Hon. R. W. Taylor opened for McGregor, and covered the case from every standpoint. He reviewed the case for the benefit of the court, and charged error in several instances, based on rulings of Judge Billingsley, chiefly in small technicalities of law. Apoplexy was made to appear the cause of Lizzie Ewing's death in every argument for the motion. Prosecutor Speaker and Mr. Carey, for the state, made a plain statement, and argued that the verdict was in accordance with the facts brought out at the trial. It now rests with the court, but it is thought that nothing will be made known until early next week.

Persons who should be in position to express an honest opinion and know the law, can not see how the court can give McGregor another trial; but Prosecutor Speaker does not fear even that, should the court so decide. He says they have abundant evidence that was not brought out at the last trial, witnesses that were not dreamed of then having been found, and they will talk.

ARE WE A CITY?

If They Hang Clothes Lines In the Street We Are.

A peculiar sight was that witnessed by people who chanced to walk along Jefferson street yesterday. Some good house-wife was washing, and, not having sufficient space in the back yard, had stretched her clothes lines in the street. They were tied between telephone poles and trees, and the clothes, neat and clean, fairly whistled as the breeze swept up the street and through every hole in the numerous mysterious looking garments on the lines. It was a sight that would have brought joy to the Wellsville heart, for it is certainly anything but the act of a city to allow clothes lines to be hung in a street as prominent as the one in question. More than one man swore softly under his whiskers as he gazed upon the unusual sight.

Mrs. Mackey Will Quit Her Husband Soon.

Mrs. Mackey, who has been before the public several times because of her husband and Mrs. Coulson, has sold her saloon on Broadway and will quit the saloon business forever. With tears in her eyes she told a reporter that she was also going to quit her husband because he has not lived up to the agreement she enacted when the last settlement was made. Mrs. Mackey says she has never had any peace since she started the saloon, but she has done her best to get along, and now that it has been a failure and her efforts have come to naught, she will ask the court for a divorce.

TO MEET AGAIN.

The Clerks Are Bringing Them All Into the Fold.

The clerks have their union in such condition now that another meeting will be held in Ferguson & Hill hall on Friday evening. All the business is in good condition at present, and the new unionists have been doing some quiet missionary work since the last session. It is expected that 15, at least, new members will be initiated on Friday evening. A prominent professional gentleman suggests that the clerks organize a literary society in connection with the union, and make provision for their mental as well as their financial welfare.

STRIKE STILL ON.

Potters Come From Akron to This City.

Anthony Smith, one of the striking potters of the Akron plant, was in town today, having come here before going to New Cumberland, where he has secured employment. With him came James Curren, James Kelly and Walter Anson, who have been working at the plant, but quit on Saturday. The strike is still unsettled, but the pottery is in operation, only a few men being out.

THE Republican ticket will be elected in Columbiana county this fall because the people know that candidates are men who can be trusted when placed in public office.

WHEN there was a Republican president in the White House who signed laws enacted by a Republican congress, you never heard anything of the profits accumulated by a bond syndicate.

WHILE stumping the state, some of
Mr. Brice's speakers should come to East Liverpool and explain to the potters why their wages are 12 1/2 per cent lower at present than when a Republican was president of this country.

It matters not by what name it is called nor who gives utterance to the sentiment, there can be no doubt that the friendly feeling toward Cuba is growing. THE NEWS REVIEW is among the newspapers that believe that the belligerent rights of the revolutionists should be recognized by the United States.

Why don't the Democrats of Ohio
discuss the effects of the Wilson bill,
the condition of the national treasury, or Mr. Cleveland's foreign policy in this campaign? It plain and simple words they dare not. They know too well the results of their own foolish legislation to attempt an argument of any sort on these lines.

AN EXHIBITION.

Although the campaign is still very young and the Democrats have not yet fired the little wooden gun that will announce their fall opening, they have arguments to peddle and are piling them on the bargain counter to the complete satisfaction of Colonel Brice, who has torn himself away from the palace in New York and has actually consented to live with ordinary mortals in Ohio for a few weeks. So the fun has commenced as usual. Campbell did it. The Hamilton statesman, who knows nothing about statesmanship, has thrown his gauntlet into the arena,
and is doubtless now shivering with fear believing that some one will take it up. He did the throwing at a Democratic picnic in Akron, and even
his own political brethren could not but smile while they admired the supreme impudence of the man. He accused the Republican party of being bossed, and right where Mr. Brice could hear, said that political bossism was an awfully wicked thing. Of course it was a daring thing for him to do. No one will deny that, for is not Mr. Brice the archangel of bosses, and does he not control the Democratic leaders of the state, Mr. Campbell included as well, as he controlled the convention at Springfield? That is the general impression today, and it is not noticed that the New York millionaire, who hopes to buy a senatorship from Ohio is denying it.
If Mr. Brice had been less considerate he would have discharged Mr. Campbell for that attack upon bossism, and selected another candidate more diplomatic in his utterances.

A ROUTE TO THE SEA.

Deep Waterways Convention In Session at Cleveland.

DELEGATES PROMINENT PEOPLE.

The American Congress and the Dominion Parliament Well Represented—A Deep Waterway to the Sea the Object of the Gathering—One Delegate's Speech.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25.—The delegates to the first annual convention of the Deep Waterways association in session here constitute a representative body. The American congress, the Dominion parliament, big cities on both sides of the international boundary, great universities and scientific associations, boards of trade and organizations of engineers and vessel owners—all forces in the commerce and civilization of the American continent—are represented.
There are among the delegates men prominent in the scientific, educational,
commercial, financial and industrial world—and all are inspired by a common purpose—to break the fetters which have heretofore bound the commerce of the great lakes by opening a deep waterway to the sea. The convention may not be able to provide the means for making the great national improvement, but it will discuss the ways and endeavor to select the best.

One of the principal papers at the convention and which explains the object of the association better than any other is that of James Fisher, Q. C., M. P., of Winnipeg. The speaker began by showing the enormous traffic which has developed in recent years on the lakes and rivers tributary to them and the marvelous export trade which has developed in connection with the great inland seas.
"Let the 20-foot channels of the lakes," he said, "be extended from the foot of Lake Erie to the Atlantic and commerce will receive an impetus that will give results as startling as the unparalleled progress of the past. And it will result in a great development of the rich northwest on both sides of the line. I care not in what direction it may reach to Lake Ontario, whether it be by the Welland deepened to 20 feet or by a new channel through the state of New York, the result in either case will be the same.
"Give us the 20-foot depth to the Atlantic and we will see the huge cargoes of 4,000 to 7,000 tons that will be floated on the completed channels of the lake route from the far west from Buffalo carried along in the same grade ships without break of bulk to the ocean, perhaps across the Atlantic to be unloaded at Liverpool or Glasgow."

A Peculiar Suit Filed.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25.—A peculiar suit has been filed here. Louis Long, in his petition affirms that in 1893 Felix Carr, the jockey, was bound over to him by a Tennessee court, under contract. Long sues Carr for $200 per month and in 1894 for $300 per month. He sues Carr to recover $3,700 for Carr's services.

Sullivan and Ryan Matched.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25.—A deal has been closed whereby John L. Sullivan and Paddy Ryan, ex-champion heavy weight pugilists of the world will meet in a boxing contest of four rounds before the Cleveland Athletic club on the night of Oct. 5. It will be for scientific points, for a good sized purse and there will be several other bouts in connection with it.

Another Treasurer Short.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 25.—George
W. Brown, who has been treasurer of Springfield township for several years, was short $2,400 on settlement, and his bondsmen will make it good. He is a schoolteacher.

Killed His Mother.

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 25.—Mistaking
his mother for a burglar Charles Cooper, aged 19 years, has shot and killed her at their home at Harwood.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

At Bergholz, Jefferson county, oil has been struck at a depth of 900 feet. The flow is 25 barrels per day.
Ben Greaves, who assaulted William Rypes at Hamilton, was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $200, and gave bond.
Earl W. Burgess, member of a dramatic company, was arrested at Marysville charged with an attempt to assault
Lulu McConnell.
John Rhoads was found in a boxcar at Columbus suffering with typhoid fever and was taken to a hospital. He had apparently been there a week.

Laura Fletcher of Middletown, aged 19, obtained a paternity warrant against Charles Cross of Dayton. Cross was arrested and went to Hamilton for a license to marry the girl.

Mrs. McKinley contracted a severe cold on the trip to Chickamauga and Atlanta, and is suffering at Columbus with a high fever and pulmonary affection. No serious results are feared, however.

Catharine Crowley brought suit at Dayton against her husband, James A. Crowley, for alimony for herself and child.
The action is based on alleged ill-treatment and drunkenness. They were married at Canton in 1884.

The Portsmouth board of trade has appointed the following delegates to attend the Ohio river improvement convention at Cincinnati: J. W. Neilan, Hon. John T. Miller, Captain W. A. McFarlin, John
Heer and H. F. Thompson.

Governor McKinley pardoned Clifford
Geiser of Morrow county, who was convicted of burglary and larceny, sentenced for one year. He is a young man, of a good family, excellent previous record, and it was shown in the trial that the prosecuting witness had a grievance against him.

Arthur Peable, night manager of the Telephone Exchange at Cuyahoga Falls, while riding in an empty boxcar with his legs dangling from the door on a Pittsburg and Western train, was caught by the bridge over the Mahoning river, near Newton Falls, thrown from the train into the river and almost instantly killed.

Judge E. P. Evans of the common pleas court of Franklin county, reversed
the judgment of the police court of Columbus in the prosecution of Saloonkeeper Ritzman for selling liquor within the legal limit of distance of the Central Insane asylum because there was no evidence to show that anything more than beer was sold by Ritzman, and no evidence that beer was intoxicating.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

A Lively Contest Develops at the First Day of the Convention.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 25.—The opening day of the Democratic state convention was a crucial one with the Democrats of New York state. The formal proceedings in the convention hall were brief and of the cut-and-dried type, but as usual at political bodies of this sort, the happenings of greatest interest were behind the scenes.

In the convention hall Mr. Perry Belmont delivered the speech which he had prepared, but deprived the opponents of the national Democratic administration of a chance to display their feeling by omitting a denunciation
of the third term idea contemplated when the speech was written. There were the usual cheers for the party leaders, when their names were mentioned and many of the leaders of the state were in the city, conspicuous among them, Senators Hill and Murphy, ex-Gov. Flower, Charles S.
Fairchild, of the state Democracy, and the Tammany men from Gotham, although Mr. Croker, if he took any part in the councils, did so by wire, since he was in New Haven, many miles away.

Behind the scenes in the councils of the principal committees there were battles under way which directly overshadowed the struggles of the various candidates for places on the different tickets. The position to which the party should commit itself on the question of more liberal Sunday excise laws was a bone of contention and some feeling was stirred over the minor contests for representation, but the only bitter issue was that between the state Democracy of New York city and Tammany, where the former claimed a fractional representation of one-third and the latter asserted its claim to the sole control of the party machinery in the metropolis. The result was practically a victory for Tammany, although the state Democracy got a small part of the loaf.

THE IRISH IN EARNEST

The Chicago Convention Marked by Intense Enthusiasm.

IRELAND'S FREEDOM IN VIEW.

Chairman Finerty Makes a Bitter and Sensational Speech—Twenty Million
Irishmen Ready to Strike and Circle
England With a Wall of Fire.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The convention of Irish societies in the Y. M. C. A. building is now in full blast and stern earnestness marks the new movement for Irish independence.

The opening of the convention was marked by intense enthusiasm. The formal opening of proceedings was long delayed by the reading of telegrams from Irish sympathizers from all parts of the world, and the delay was increased by the great care taken to prevent other than authorized delegates passing the doorkeepers. Chairman Finerty's spirited address calling for prompt and efficient action on behalf of Ireland was frequently interrupted by the cheering of the enthusiastic delegates.

The convention was called to order by John J. O'Connell of Chicago, chairman of the committee of arrangements.
Rapping for order, Mr. O'Connell explained the causes leading up to the calling of the convention; that the people of the country had lost faith in the Irish parliamentary party. Requests came from all over the country, urging that such a convention should be held so that the new movement should get down to business. In response to these requests local committees had been formed who had made arrangements to facilitate the work of the convention. For three days the delegates would be called upon to devise means for the furthering of the object for which the gathering had been called. In the wishes of the speaker, the day would not be far distant when an Irish republic, based on the lines of the greatest republic on earth, would be established, to which end this convention would lend invaluable aid if its work were fittingly and properly done.

Mr. O'Connell introduced as temporary chairman ex-Congressman John
F. Finerty of Chicago.

Mr. Finerty said the extinguishment of the nationality of Ireland by fraudulent means, which had placed the smaller country at the mercy of the larger. The act of union was passed by a sectarian assemblage, and had been curled by all true fervent Irishmen since the day of its birth. The various attempts of Irishmen to make the English government listen to reason were recapitulated by the speaker, the first and only one that accomplished the desired result being, in his opinion, the Fenian movement.

The speaker continued: "There are those who fear that we may do something here against the laws of the United States. Our loyalty to the United States is shown in the stars and stripes on our platform here; but our loyalty is a matter entirely independent of and separate from the neutrality laws. Whenever has England paid any attention to neutrality laws? Certainly not in Ireland, where her very presence is a standing memorial of her breach of the neutrality laws. Though there be comparatively few Irishmen left in Ireland to bear the blows of the oppressor, there are 20,000,000 of Irishmen in every part of the world ready and anxious to strike the blow that shall make the old country free."
Mr. Finerty condemned the foreign policy of the United States, and in conclusion said: "We are here to proclaim to the world that the Irish race is by no means defeated or disheartened. There are more Irishmen today than were ever on the face of the earth before. We'll circle England with a wall of fire which shall never be extinguished until Ireland is free."

Gossiping About Peary's Expedition.

ST. JOHN, N. F., Sept. 25.—The Peary expedition and its doings continue to provide a fertile source of gossip. The newspapers give copious accounts of the journey made to the ice cape, the sufferings of the party and other particulars. Most persons here think that Lieutenant Peary was very imprudent in undertaking such a journey at all after he found that his food caches were lost.

Brave Woman Shows a Revolver.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Sept. 25.—As Mrs.
Matthew Bach was returning to Mount Carmel from Mud Valley with $75, the months' wages of her three sons, she was attacked by three men, but made her escape safely by displaying an empty revolver and threatening to shoot to kill.

THE Republican ticket will be elected in Columbiana county this fall
because the people know that candidates are men who can be trusted when placed in public office.

WHEN there was a Republican
president in the White House who signed laws enacted by a Republican
congress, you never heard anything of the profits accumulated by a bond syndicate.

WHILE stamping the state, some of
Mr. Brice's speakers should come to East Liverpool and explain to the
potters why their wages are 124 per cent lower at present than when a Republican was president of this country.

It matters not by what name it is called nor who gives utterance to the
sentiment, there can be no doubt that the friendly feeling toward Cuba is growing. The NEWS REVIEW is
among the newspapers that believe
that the belligerent rights of the revolutionists should be recognized by the United States.

WHY don't the Democrats of Ohio
discuss the effects of the Wilson bill,
the condition of the national treasury,
or Mr. Cleveland's foreign policy in this campaign? In plain and simple words they dare not. They know too well the results of their own foolish legislation to attempt an argument of
any sort on these lines.

AN EXHIBITION.

Although the campaign is still very young and the Democrats have not
yet fired the little wooden gun that
will announce their fall opening, they
have arguments to peddle and are
piling them on the bargain counter to
the complete satisfaction of Colonel Brice, who has torn himself away from
the palace in New York and has
actually consented to live with
ordinary mortals in Ohio for a few weeks. So the fun has commenced as usual. Campbell did it. The Hamilton statesman, who knows
nothing about statesmanship, has
thrown his gauntlet into the arena,
and is doubtless now shivering with
fear believing that some one will take
it up. He did the throwing at a Democratic picnic in Akron, and even
his own political brethren could not
but smile while they admired the supreme impudence of the man. He accused the Republican party of being bossed, and right where Mr. Brice could hear, said that political bossism
was an awfully wicked thing. Of course it was a daring thing for him to do. No one will deny that, for is not Mr. Brice the archangel of bosses, and does he not control the Democratic leaders of the state. Mr. Campbell included as well, as he controlled the convention at Springfield? That is the general impression today, and it is not noticed that the New York
millionaire, who hopes to buy a senatorship from Ohio, is denying it.
If Mr. Brice had been less considerate
he would have discharged Mr. Campbell for that attack upon bossism,
and selected another candidate more diplomatic in his utterances.

A ROUTE TO THE SEA.

Deep Waterways Convention In Session at Cleveland.

DELEGATES PROMINENT PEOPLE.

The American Congress and the Domini-
on Parliament Well Represented—A Deep Waterway to the Sea the Object of
the Gathering—One Delegate's Speech.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25.—The delegates to the first annual convention of the Deep Waterways association in session here constitute a representative body.
The American congress, the Dominion parliament, big cities on both sides of the international boundary, great universities and scientific associations, boards of trade and organizations of engineers and vessel owners—all forces in the commerce and civilization of the American continent—are represented.
There are among the delegates men
prominent in the scientific, educational,
commercial, financial and industrial
world—and all are inspired by a common purpose—to break the fetters which
have heretofore bound the commerce of
the great lakes by opening a deep waterway to the sea. The convention
may not be able to provide the means
for making the great national improvement, but it will discuss the ways and
endeavor to select the best.

One of the principal papers at the convention and which explains the object of the association better than any other is that of James Fisher, Q. C., M. P., of Winnipeg. The speaker
began by showing the enormous traffic
which has developed in recent years on
the lakes and rivers tributary to them
and the marvelous export trade which
has developed in connection with the great inland seas.

"Let the 20-foot channels of the
lakes," he said, "be extended from the foot of Lake Erie to the Atlantic and
commerce will receive an impetus that
will give results as startling as the unparalleled progress of the past. And it will result in a great development of
the rich northwest on both sides of the line. I care not in what direction it may reach to Lake Ontario, whether it be by the Welland deepened to 20 feet or by a new channel through the state of New York, the result in either case will be the same.

"Give us the 20-foot depth to the Atlantic and we will see the huge cargoes
of 4,000 to 7,000 tons that will be floated
on the completed channels of the lake
route from the far west from Buffalo
carried along in the same grade ships
without break of bulk to the ocean,
perhaps across the Atlantic to be unloaded at Liverpool or Glasgow."

A Peculiar Suit Filed.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25.—A peculiar suit has been filed here. Louis Long, in his petition affirms that in 1893 Felix Carr, the jockey, was bound over to
him by a Tennessee court, under contract. Long sues the jockey to Barney Schreiber for $300 per month and in 1894 for $300 per month. He sues Schreiber to recover $3,700 for Carr's services.

Sullivan and Ryan Matched.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25.—A deal has been closed whereby John L. Sullivan
and Paddy Ryan, ex-champion heavy
weight pugilists of the world will meet
in a boxing contest of four rounds before the Cleveland Athletic club on the night of Oct. 5. It will be for scientific points, for a good sized purse and there will be several other bouts in connection with it.

Another Treasurer Short.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 25.—George
W. Brown, who has been treasurer of Springfield township for several years,
was short $2,400 on settlement, and his bondsmen will make it good. He is a schoolteacher.

Killed His Mother.

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 25.—Mistaking
his mother for a burglar Charles Cooper,
aged 19 years, has shot and killed her at her home at Harwood.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

At Bergholz, Jefferson county, oil has been struck at a depth of 900 feet. The flow is 25 barrels per day.

Ben Greaves, who assaulted William Rypes at Hamilton, was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $300, and
gave bond.

Earl W. Burgess, member of a dramatic company, was arrested at Marysville charged with an attempt to assault
Lulu McConnell.

John Rhoads was found in a boxcar at Columbus suffering with typhoid fever

and was taken to a hospital. He had apparently been there a week.

Laura Fletcher of Middletown, aged 19,
obtained a paternity warrant against Charles Cross of Dayton. Cross was arrested and went to Hamilton for a license
to marry the girl.

Mrs. McKinley contracted a severe cold on the trip to Chickamauga and Atlanta
and is suffering at Columbus with a high fever and pulmonary affection. No serious results are feared, however.

Catharine Crowley brought suit at Dayton against her husband, James A. Crowley, for alimony for herself and child.
The action is based on alleged ill-treatment and drunkenness. They were married at Canton in 1884.

The Portsmouth board of trade has appointed the following delegates to attend
the Ohio river improvement convention at Cincinnati: J. W. Neiman, Hon. John T. Miller, Captain W. A. McFarlin, John
Heer and H. F. Thompson.

Governor McKinley pardoned Clifford
Geiser of Morrow county, who was convicted of burglary and larceny, sentenced
for one year. He is a young man, of a good family, excellent previous record,
and it was shown in the trial that the
prosecuting witness had a grievance against him.

Arthur Peable, night manager of the Telephone Exchange at Cuyahoga Falls,
while riding in an empty boxcar with his
legs dangling from the door on a Pittsburg and Western train, was caught by
the bridge over the Mahoning river, near Newton Falls, thrown from the train into
the river and almost instantly killed.

Judge E. P. Evans of the common pleas court of Franklin county, reversed
the judgment of the police court of Columbus in the prosecution of Saloonkeeper Ritzman for selling liquor within the
legal limit of distance of the Central Insane asylum because there was no evidence to show that anything more than beer was sold by Ritzman, and no evidence that beer was intoxicating.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

A Lively Contest Develops at the First Day of the Convention.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 25.—The opening
day of the Democratic state convention was a crucial one with the Democrats of New York state. The formal proceedings in the convention hall were
brief and of the cut-and-dried type, but as is usual at political bodies of this sort, the happenings of greatest interest were behind the scenes.

In the convention hall Mr. Perry Belmont delivered the speech which he
had prepared, but deprived the opponents of the national Democratic administration of a chance to display
their feeling by omitting a denunciation
of the third term idea contemplated when the speech was written.

There were the usual cheers for the party leaders, when their names were mentioned and many of the leaders of the state were in the city, conspicuous
among them, Senators Hill and Murphy, ex-Governor Flower, Charles S.
Fairchild, of the state Democracy, and
the Tammany men from Gotham, although Mr. Cramer, if he took any part in the councils, did so by fire, since he was in New Haven, many miles away.

Behind the scenes in the councils of the principal committees there were
battles under way which directly overshadowed the struggles of the various
candidates for places on the different tickets. The position to which the party should commit itself on the question of more liberal Sunday excise laws
was a bone of contention and some feeling was stirred over the minor
contests for representation, but the only
bitter issue was that between the state
Democracy of New York city and Tammany, where the former claimed a fractional representation of one-third
and the latter asserted its claim to the sole control of the party machinery in the metropolis. The result was practically a victory for Tammany, although
the state Democracy got a small part of the loaf.

THE IRISH IN EARNEST

The Chicago Convention Marked by Intense Enthusiasm.

IRELAND'S FREEDOM IN VIEW.

Chairman Finerty Makes a Bitter and Sensational Speech—Twenty Million
Irishmen Ready to Strike and Circle
England With a Wall of Fire.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The convention of Irish societies in the Y. M. C. A. building is now in full blast and stern
earnestness marks the new movement
for Irish independence.

The opening of the convention was marked by intense enthusiasm. The formal opening of proceedings was
long delayed by the reading of telegrams from Irish sympathizers from all parts of the world, and the delay
was increased by the great care taken
to prevent other than authorized delegates passing the doorkeepers. Chairman Finerty's spirited address calling
for prompt and efficient action on behalf of Ireland was frequently interrupted by the cheering of the enthusiastic delegates.

The convention was called to order
by John J. O'Connell of Chicago, chairman of the committee of arrangements.
Rapping for order, Mr. O'Connell explained the causes leading up to the
calling of the convention; that the people of the country had lost faith in the Irish parliamentary party. Requests came from all over the country,
urging that such a convention should
be held so that the new movement
should get down to business. In response to these requests local committees had been formed who had made arrangements to facilitate the work of the convention. For three days the delegates would be called upon to devise means for the furthering of the object for which the gathering had been called. In the wishes of the speaker, the day would not be far distant when an Irish republic, based on
the lines of the greatest republic on earth, would be established, to which end this convention would lend invaluable aid if its work were fittingly and properly done.

Mr. O'Connell introduced as temporary chairman ex-Congressman John
F. Finerty of Chicago.

Mr. Finerty said the extinguishment
of the nationality of Ireland by fraudulent means, which had placed the
smaller country at the mercy of the larger. The act of union was passed by a sectarian assemblage, and had been curled by all true fervent Irishmen
since the day of its birth. The various attempts of Irishmen to make the English government listen to reason were recapitulated by the speaker, the first and only one that accomplished the desired result being, in his opinion, the Fenian movement.

The speaker continued: "There are those who fear that we may do something here against the laws of the United States. Our loyalty to the United States is shown in the stars and stripes on our platform here; but our
loyalty is a matter entirely independent of and separate from the neutrality
laws. Whenever has England paid any attention to neutrality laws? Certainly not in Ireland, where her very presence
is a standing memorial of her breach of
land to bear the blows of the oppressor,
there are 20,000,000 of Irishmen in every part of the world ready and anxious to strike the blow that shall make the old country free."

Mr. Finerty condemned the foreign policy of the United States, and in conclusion said: "We are here to proclaim to the world that the Irish race
is by no means defeated or disheartened. There are more Irishmen today than ever on the face of the earth before. We'll circle England with a wall of fire which shall never be extinguished until Ireland is free."

Gossiping About Peary's Expedition.

ST. JOHN, N. F., Sept. 25.—The Peary expedition and its doings continue to provide a fertile source of gossip. The newspapers give copious accounts of
the journey made to the ice cape, the
sufferings of the party and other particulars. Most persons here think that Lieutenant Peary was very imprudent
in undertaking such a journey at all
lost.

Brave Woman Shows a Revolver.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Sept. 25.—As Mrs.
Matthew Bach was returning to Mount Carmel from Mud Valley with $75, the
months' wages of her three sons, she
was attacked by three men, but made
her escape safely by displaying an empty revolver and threatening to shoot to kill.

AN UNFATHOMED MARINE MYSTERY

The Widow of the Captain of the Lost City of Haverhill Believes the Steamer Was Destroyed by Suspicious Spaniards. Gives Good Evidence.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—General Dumont, supervising inspector of steam vessels, has just completed an investigation covering several months of the loss of the Barnegate light, 50 miles south of New York, of the steamer City of Haverhill, with all on board, on the night of March 28 last. The report of the investigation indicates that the wreck of the City of Haverhill will go down in marine annals as one of the unfathomed mysteries. The investigation was of more than usual importance because of claims that might have resulted in an international implication with Spain. These arose from the theory, deeply lodged in the breast of the widow of the captain of the City of Haverhill and persistently adhered to by her, that the vessel was under suspicion by the Spanish authorities of being intended for the use of Cuban filibusters and had been destroyed by Spanish agencies.

General Dumont from the first scouted this theory and refused to believe that the Spanish authorities would destroy, either by dynamite concealed on board or by the use of a submarine torpedo from a Spanish cruiser at that time reported to be cruising along the Atlantic coast, a steamer flying the American flag almost within sight of New York. But there are other features of the wreck, which he agreed to thoroughly investigate, and did, but the suspicions of the captain's widow are sensational and plausible.

The City of Haverhill was a stern wheel steamer, built at Newburyport in 1880. She was 150 feet long, of very light draught (four feet when light), of 174 tons displacement and was valued at $15,000. She had been purchased in New York by the Key West Steamship company for carrying passengers from the mainland of Florida along the keys to Key West, and Captain Warren H. Watrous, former of Washington, and Key West, Fla., had been sent to New York to bring her to her destination. On the morning of March 27 she sailed for New York, with Captain Watrous, his son, a nephew of Edgar F. Luckenbach, for Norfolk, Va., in tow of the ocean tug W. A. Luckenbach, intending to proceed thence by the inland passage to Key West under her own steam. Shortly before midnight, when off Barnegate Light, the tow line was cast off by the City of Haverhill, the captain of the tug claims. The next day the pilotboat James Gordon Bennett found some of the wreckage of the City of Haverhill and the body of Captain Watrous encircled by a life buoy. The press at the time reported that she had probably foundered in a storm, but it was subsequently established that the wreckage was seen by Captain Fred Redmond of the fish schooner Redmond before the storm came up early the next morning. Captain Redmond, in a letter to Mrs. Grace S. Watrous, the widow of the master of the Haverhill, stated that his opinion was that the vessel had been blown up, as one end of the after saloon, with many heavy timbers, floated to one side of him and the pilothouse and other wreckage to the other. Mrs. Watrous maintained that the boilers could not have exploded, as they had been thoroughly tested before the steamer sailed, and moreover, she did not believe the Haverhill was under her own steam, as the body of the engineer subsequently found was dressed in working clothes. He had on collar, necktie and cuffs. She was firm in her belief that the City of Haverhill was suspected of being a Cuban filibuster by the Spanish authorities, and was either sunk by dynamite concealed in her hold and exploded by a time fuse or else a torpedo from the Spanish war vessel at that time reported as cruising on the coast.

Her course, Mrs. Watrous, maintained, must have been known to the Spanish authorities then on the lookout for filibusters. The fact that the vessel was fitted with cabin and other sleeping accommodations at Brooklyn might, the widow thinks, have strengthened her suspicions had they been watching her. Another point which confirmed Mrs. Watrous in her belief of foul play, was the fact that the tow was cast off shortly before the loss occurred. Captain Williams of the tug claimed in a statement he made that the tug was not under contract to tow the Haverhill to Norfolk, but had simply "hitched on" to two barges he was towing, and that he thought nothing wrong when he found the Haverhill had cast off. Mrs. Watrous, however, maintains that she received a letter from her husband, written before he sailed, saying he would leave in an hour in tow for Norfolk. Captain Watrous' sister has also made affidavit that she was present on the Haverhill when the contract was discussed.

A BIG STRIKE BREWING.

Labor Organizations Likely to Tie Up the Wabash Railroad System.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—A local paper declares that there is a big strike brewing on the Wabash railway which threatens to tie up the entire system from Toledo to Kansas City. The paper adds:

"For several weeks past the company, through its officials, has been quietly fermenting out the members of the various Brotherhoods in its employ, and one by one they have been discharged. The reason given has usually been incompetency, drunkenness, bad record, or other causes equally as good, but the discharged employees had no recourse. It is claimed, however, that a majority of the men discharged were released because they are members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen, Order of Railway Trainmen, Railway Conductors, or the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association. These five organizations, it is said, will demand their reinstatement or tie up the road.

Will Hear the Armormakers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Secretary Herbert has consented to withhold the advertisements for bids for the proposed battleships until tonight for the purpose of giving those who oppose his first decision an opportunity to present arguments against that part of it which proposed to require bids on the vessels with armor. The secretary has received strong protests from the armormakers of the country and has been visited by President Linderman of the Bethlehem works and President Leishman of the Carnegie works, who represented to the secretary that to ask for bids on the basis proposed would enable one or two shipbuilders to dictate both to the armormakers and to the government.

Talmage Talks on His Call.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 25.—Rev. Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage talking with reference to the call extended to him by the First Presbyterian church at Washington, said that he had received two or three other calls of a like character. The call from Washington, however, was very important and presented a very inviting field, but he wanted a little more time, he said, to carefully consider and weigh the matter in order that he may be positive as to his duty. He said that he would give a definite reply before the close of the week, probably on Saturday.

The Coke Strike a Failure.

SCOTSDALE, Pa., Sept. 25.—From a personal investigation of the much talked of coke strike from one end of the region to the other, it is evident that the strike has not materialized. The only plant on a strike is the Lemont of the McClure Coke company. The Stewart Iron company's plant is also closed owing to a shortage in the water supply. At the coke workers' convention here the men out were ordered back to work Oct. 10.

Oscar Wilde Bankruptcy Case.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—In a hearing of the Oscar Wilde bankruptcy case, counsel for Mr. Wilde stated that his debts amounted to £3,700 and that there were no assets. Several friends it was stated had subscribed a sufficient sum to pay all the claims against Mr. Wilde except that of the largest creditor who is a personal friend of the debtor. The examination was adjourned until Nov. 12.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Sept. 25.—The second race in the series of the best three out of five, between Spruce, IV and Ethelwynn, for the perpetual challenge cup offered by the Seavanhak, Yacht club ended, as did Saturday's, in a fiasco because there was not enough wind to finish within five hours.

The Prosecution Has Finished.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The case of the prosecution in the trial of Theodore Durrant has closed. The last hours were spent in putting the finishing touches to the testimony against the accused. Witnesses were summoned to strengthen the entire case by filling in the weak places. The chief point which the prosecution sought to establish was that Durrant had said that the last time he had seen Miss Lamont was when he parted with her on the morning of April 3, she going to school, he to the Cooper Medical college. In all his statements regarding the disappearance of Blanche Lamont the defendant has stuck to the declaration. Witnesses testified otherwise.

Claim $1,000,000 From Huntington.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 25.—Judge Henry B. Stoddard, representing Horace Childend of New York, trustee of the creditors of A. S. Hatch & Co., and A. S. Hatch & F. H. Hatch, individually, has brought application to the superior court to intervene in the suit of Collis P. Huntington against the Newport News and Mississippi Valley Railroad company, and for an order to examine the books. The allegation is that Mr. Huntington is indebted to them and to the company to the amount of $1,000,000, and that the receivership was obtained by Mr. Huntington to prevent the company collecting what he owes to it.

The new broom for the street sweeper arrived today, and seems to be much better than the first one. A well known commercial traveler, who knows enough of the Atlanta exposition to talk with understanding, was laughing at the efforts of a local paper to have Liverpool potters make an exhibit. A crowd of enthusiastic youngsters cheered him on and attracted attention, while Tommy winked the other eye and said he knew a good thing when he saw it.

THE DOG WAS REAL MAD

So Was the Policeman, But of a Different Brand.

NOW THE DOG IS DEAD

Officer Jennings Had an Adventure This Morning. But Faced the Danger and Shot the Animal—Another Case of Canine.

Mad dogs and the scares they cause have almost dropped out of sight in the city; but one came to the surface last night and another came to its death this morning.

A man giving the name of Johanning, a former saloonkeeper in the city, was at city hall last night, stating that he had come for the purpose of answering the charge of keeping a vicious dog. He had been summoned because his dog had bitten James McMillen, and he wanted the matter settled, but the mayor was not present, and he walked away.

Officer Jennings was this morning called to Sixth street where a mad dog was scaring the people, and he readily went. The animal was mad, frothing at the mouth and leaving the impression wherever he went that he was dangerous. As he ran along the street snapping at all he saw there was a scatterment, and that part of the street was as bare as a barren waste. When the officer arrived the dog was in undisputable control of a back yard, and had braced himself for battle in a wash house, but the officer marched boldly in, and in a few minutes there was one less cur to frighten the public in town.

AN UNFORTUNATE LINE.

A Steamboat Company That Has Its Share of Trouble.

The White Collar line steamboats, well known on this part of the river, are an unlucky lot, and the company owning them have had a hard time of it recently. Last week the St. Lawrence, a boat that formerly passed Liverpool regularly, sunk at Cincinnati, and a few days later the City of Vevey sunk at Craig's bar. Both boats belonged to the White Collar line, and four other big boats have recently gone down for the same owners. Rivermen are now looking for the next accident, for they firmly believe that when one boat sinks two others will follow, and now they need only one to prove the assertion in this case.

CAROLINE LOST AGAIN.

This Time She Is Out $125 and One Man Is in Jail.

The rush continues in police court. Another case of unusual importance was added to the docket today.

The prisoner is James Swaney, and he was arrested last night by Chief Gill. The charge against him is that of stealing $125 from the house of Caroline Smith a few nights ago, and there is a long story connected with the matter. It is believed that others are interested in the disposition of the wealth, and Swaney is being held in jail until the chief arrives from Lisbon.

A GENERAL ROUNDUP.

There Is a Big Bunch of Prisoners and Everyone Is Noisy.

They are a noisy lot at city hall today, for the jail is well filled, and the crowd cannot be quiet. French will likely go to the works tomorrow, but Sidney Burroughs will be allowed to clean up as payment for his iniquity. Keenan may have a hearing tonight, and it is thought that Hancock may plead guilty to selling liquor on Sunday. William Sauter has not yet been heard for selling to a black-listed man, and there are other cases which have been delayed because of the rush.

The Tramp's Daughter.

The Ideals produced the second of their series of popular plays at the Grand last night to a large and well pleased audience. The play throughout was a meritorious one, admirably rendered, and the audience showed their appreciation by almost a continuous round of applause. The Irish kitchen terror, as portrayed by Miss Eva French, was far above the average, while the singing and sketch specialty of Harry Webber and Miss Carrie Webber in the fourth act was a side-splitting one. The show as a whole is first class, ranking first among the repertoire companies that have visited this city, and we predict that the "S. R. O." sign will be displayed before the end of the week.

On Mr. Morton's own ground. Thomas Buckley was notified that a sewer had been ordered at his property, and Chellis brought forward the sewer on Lincoln avenue. He claimed it was too far away for property owners on one side to make connections, and emptied a vast amount of filth into Tanyard run. Engineer George took up the matter of the run, and said that so much filth flowed sluggishly along its course that the people would die from the thought of it if they only knew. Council did not seem disposed to do anything with the question, and the president mentioned that Captain Martin wanted three feet of the pavement at Grant street and Lincoln avenue. Under advice of the solicitor the request was granted, the captain to return the ground to the city whenever it is needed. After councilmen had been notified to put names in the jury box, and the clerk was instructed to buy two dozen incandescent lamps, in order, as one expressed it, that they have more light on the president's East End road, council adjourned.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market street, druggists.

At Its Old Tricks.

A force of railroad men from Wells-ville were working at the passenger station today, making a change in the troublesome sewer at that place. The sewer has always been the cause of annoyance, and has already cost the company a pretty penny.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Young Men's Christian association, Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocation; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one-half the time usually required. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market streets, druggists.

The Duke of York's Baby.

There is a report that the Duke of York's baby is deaf and dumb, but everybody will hope that it is not true, and that the royal suckling will talk and hear as well as anybody when the time comes. If not, the disability will not be without its alleviations. Only a few of his line have said anything good or heard anything good of themselves in six generations. One of his successors earned this epithet, which he may deserve whether he talks or not:

Here lies Prince Fred,
Who was alive and is dead.
Had it been his father
I had much rather,
Had it been his brother
Soon 'r than the other,
Had it been his sister
The 'd no one would have missed her.
But it is his whole generation
All the better for the nation.
But as it's only Fred,
Who was alive and is dead,
There is nothing to be said.
—New York Tribune.

A Trick of the Huntsman.

During a visit to Montana a prominent Chicago gentleman went with a party just starting for a grand "hunt for big game in the Yellowstone region." He remarked to the leader, "You cannot hunt in Yellowstone park." "Oh, no," said the leader. "We go outside the limits of the park, and if the game won't come to use we know how to manage to make it come." Such excursions are not uncommon, and it will not be strange if hungry Indians should occasionally imitate their white brethren.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Too Dense For Him.

Disgusted Auditor—Then I'm off! Can't make head or tail of it now, and I'll never see through it if it gets any thicker.—London Tit-Bits.

A FAKE REPORT

SENT OUT FOR PURE POLITICAL EFFECT.

General Bushnell Denies That There Is Dissatisfaction Among His Employees.

Special to the Columbus Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 9.—General Bushnell was seen by your correspondent this morning at his office in the Warder, Bushnell & Glessner company's shops at Lagonda, and when questioned in regard to the story of a big cut being made in the wages of the employees, sent from here last night to a morning paper, he said:

"There is not a word of it true. Our men are receiving the same pay as last year with the exception of common laborers, who have been raised 10 cents in the past two weeks. No man was ordered to turn out in tomorrow's parade; they volunteered. A company was formed and the men seem very enthusiastic about it, both Democrats and Republicans.

"Everything is very pleasant out here this morning, all the men are at work and there is no evidence of any dissatisfaction or intended strike for higher wages. The report was started by those not in the employ of the Warder, Bushnell & Glessner company, and of course the farther it went the worse it got. The correspondent who sent out the false report colored it for a political effect, but that will not work for any one as at liberty to come and examine our books and compare our payrolls of last year and this year. The false report was started no doubt to put a damper on the opening tomorrow, but it will not be considered for a moment by my Republican friends throughout Ohio."

Home and Foreign Markets.

In estimating the relative importance of the home and foreign markets to our agriculturists it needs only be said that our corn crop alone nets the farmer a sum equal to our entire exports of manufacturing, forests, fisheries, mining and all other agriculture. Our corn crop in 1891 amounted to $366,439,228, our hay crop in 1894 to $468,578,321, our most valuable cotton crop in 1882 to $309,696,500.

Seldom do our aggregate imports and exports combined equal in value these three crops alone. The entire annual earnings of the industries of the country may be estimated at $15,000,000,000 annually, and of this our aggregated imports and exports form one-tenth. The other nine-tenths are the home market for American products and American labor.

A Typical American.

I congratulate the Republicans of Ohio that they have such a candidate as General Bushnell. He is a typical American citizen. By his own unaided efforts he has made his life pre-eminently successful. By countless deeds of charity he has made friends of all who love humanity, and by his patriotic service as a soldier and his lifelong devotion to the cause of Republicanism he has endeared himself to every member of the party of Lincoln, Grant and Blaine. He will prove a worthy successor to the greatest men who have filled the office for which he has been named, and give to the state one of the best administrations it has ever enjoyed. Let us rally to his support as one man.—Forker at Springfield, Sept. 10.

A Winner.

It is not a matter of surprise that General Bushnell is developing into a famous and effective campaigner, for he has the faculty of succeeding at whatever he tries his hand.—Zanesville Courier.

RUSSIA HAS THE LEAD.

England Alarmed Over Her Rival's Growing Power in China.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—It is announced that, with the sanction of the czar, a Russian bank with very large capital will be opened for business soon at Peking with a branch at Shanghai. Some of the most prominent financiers and merchants in Russia are interested in the scheme, which has been secretly canvassed. The charter has just been issued. The enterprise is regarded as another indication of Russia's determination to wrest the commercial as well as the political supremacy in the far east from England. Trading emissaries of Russia have freely assisted the government of China with money, and have already penetrated to the interior of China where they are supplanting the British. An article which appears in The Globe indicates the alarm with which the English view the situation. This article says:

"Russia will unquestionably extort from China the right of way through Manchuria or the Trans-Siberian railway. A struggle for supremacy in Asia is upon us. If British influence does not go under altogether we must bear our part in the old masterful, English spirit, without delay. Thanks to our good relations with Japan, we ought to be able to work that power to our advantage politically and commercially."

Mckinley on Forker.

"This year, 1895, we are going to assume our rightful place. Mr. Forker will take the seat of Mr. Brice. Ohio Republicans are united firmly and resolutely on that proposition. We intend to give Senator Sherman a Republican colleague. While the Democracy have not declared their preference in the open, it is well understood that Mr. Brice is their candidate. The Republicans have formally, officially and in hearty good faith, in state convention assembled, declared their preference for senator to be Joseph B. Forker; and the choice of the convention will be ratified in November, and he will be elected to succeed Mr. Brice.

"The Republicans are to be congratulated that they have no rival candidates for the United States senatorship. We have no contest among ourselves. Our contest is entirely with the Democratic party; who have but one candidate and he enjoys the great distinction of having the endorsement of the last Republican state convention, an endorsement given without division or dissent, unanimously and enthusiastically, and this distinction is one which, so far as I can recollect, is exceptional in the history of the Republican party in Ohio.

"I can not enjoin upon the people of the state too strongly or earnestly the importance of electing a Republican legislature, which shall elect a Republican United States senator. There is nothing before us this year at all to be compared in importance with our legislative election. The legislative ticket must have our special concern and command our undivided support. In the present political divisions of the senate of the United States, which are extremely close, a single senator may determine the political complexion of that body for years to come. If it is the purpose of the people of this country in the next national contest to give the Republican party full power, as I firmly believe, it is of the highest moment that we inaugurate that work here in Ohio, and this year, by making certain the election of a Republican United States senator. All differences and divisions, if any have here-tofore existed, should be swept away now and forever, and all Republicans should rally as one man to secure a decisive majority in both branches of the legislature, which shall make certain and triumphant the election to the United States senate of ex-Governor Forker, the declared choice of the Republicans of the state.—Governor McKinley at Springfield, Sept. 10.

THE DOG WAS REAL MAD

So Was the Policeman, But of a Different Brand.

NOW THE DOG IS DEAD

Officer Jennings Had an Adventure This Morning, But Faced the Danger and Shot the Animal—Another Case of Canine.

Mad dogs and the scares they cause have almost dropped out of sight in the city; but one came to the surface last night and another came to its death this morning.

A man giving the name of Johanning, a former saloonkeeper in the city, was at city hall last night, stating that he had come for the purpose of answering the charge of keeping a vicious dog. He had been summoned because his dog had bitten James McMillen, and he wanted the matter settled, but the mayor was not present, and he walked away.

Officer Jennings was this morning called to Sixth street where a mad dog was scaring the people, and he readily went. The animal was mad, frothing at the mouth and leaving the impression wherever he went that he was dangerous. As he ran along the street snapping at all he saw there was a scatterment, and that part of the street was as bare as a barren waste. When the officer arrived the dog was in undisputable control of a back yard, and had braced himself for battle in a wash house, but the officer marched boldly in, and in a few minutes there was one less cur to frighten the public in town.

AN UNFORTUNATE LINE.

A Steamboat Company That Has Its Share of Trouble.

The White Collar line steamboats, well known on this part of the river, are an unlucky lot, and the company owning them have had a hard time of it recently. Last week the St. Lawrence, a boat that formerly passed Liverpool regularly, sunk at Cincinnati, and a few days later the City of Vevey sunk at Craig's bar. Both boats belonged to the White Collar line, and four other big boats have recently gone down for the same owners. Rivermen are now looking for the next accident, for they firmly believe that when one boat sinks two others will follow, and now they need only one to prove the assertion in this case.

CAROLINE LOST AGAIN.

This Time She Is Out $125 and One Man Is in Jail.

The rush continues in police court. Another case of unusual importance was added to the docket today.

The prisoner is James Swaney, and he was arrested last night by Chief Gill. The charge against him is that of stealing $125 from the house of Caroline Smith a few nights ago, and there is a long story connected with the matter. It is believed that others are interested in the disposition of the wealth, and Swaney is being held in jail until the chief arrives from Lisbon.

A GENERAL ROUNDUP.

There is a Big Bunch of Prisoners and Everyone Is Noisy.

They are a noisy lot at city hall today, for the jail is well filled, and the crowd cannot be quiet. French will likely go to the works tomorrow, but Sidney Burroughs will be allowed to clean up as payment for his iniquity. Keenan may have a hearing tonight, and it is thought that Hancock may plead guilty to selling liquor on Sunday. William Sauter has not yet been heard for selling to a black-listed man, and there are other cases which have been delayed because of the rush.

The Traump's Daughter.

The Ideals produced the second of their series of popular plays at the Grand last night to a large and well pleased audience. The play throughout was a meritorious one, admirably rendered, and the audience showed their appreciation by almost a continuous round of applause. The Irish kitchen terror, as portrayed by Miss Eva French, was far above the average, while the singing and sketch specialty of Harry Webber and Miss Carrie Webber in the fourth act was a side-splitting one. The show as a whole is first class, ranking first among the repertoire companies that have visited this city, and we predict that the "S. R. O." sign will be displayed before the end of the week.

The electric light company have given light free for Doctor Lee's lecture on Friday evening. Every bulb will be turned on, about 300 in all. Come and see the church in a blaze of glory.

The friends of Mrs. Bishop, the Liverpool lady who is ill at Wilmerding, will be grieved to learn that she is unconscious the greater part of the time, and her recovery is despaired of.

Don't forget Doctor Lee's stereopticon lecture at the First Presbyterian church on Friday evening.

MARSHALL HAS A PLAN.

on Mr. Morton's own ground. Thomas Buckley was notified that a sewer had been ordered at his property, and Chailis brought forward the sewer on Lincoln avenue. He claimed it was too far away for property owners on one side to make connections, and emptied a vast amount of filth into Tanyard run. Engineer George took up the matter of the run, and said that so much filth flowed sluggishly along its course that the people would die from the thought of it if they only knew. Council did not seem disposed to do anything with the question, and the president mentioned that Captain Martin wanted three feet of the pavement at Grant street and Lincoln avenue. Under advice of the solicitor the request was granted, the captain to return the ground to the city whenever it is needed. After councilmen had been notified to put names in the jury box, and the clerk was instructed to buy two dozen incandescent lamps, in order, as one expressed it, that they have more light on the president's East End road, council adjourned.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market street, druggists.

Celina Chamberlain sues Kate McCurran for $62.24. Trial tomorrow morning.

At Its Old Tricks.

A force of railroad men from Wells-ville were working at the passenger station today, making a change in the troublesome sewer at that place. The sewer has always been the cause of annoyance, and has already cost the company a pretty penny.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Young Men's Christian association, Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocation; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one-half the time usually required. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market streets, druggists.

Seeing His Son.

John Henderson left yesterday for East Liverpool to see his son, Sam, who is well known here. He received a letter from his son the other day from Pittsburg, the first he had heard from him for three years.—Toronto Tribune.

She Will Sue.

Attorney Brookes will in a few days file in court a petition for $5,000 damages for Harriet Woodburn against Mrs. Delia Morris and the city, the claim which was turned down at last night's meeting of council.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. Twenty-five and 50-cent bottles for sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Sixth and West Market streets, druggists.

No Diphtheria.

The child of Charles Stevens, Third street, who was ill with diphtheria, has recovered, and the quarantine will be lifted and the premises fumigated tomorrow.

A grand musical prelude by Mrs. J. C. Thompson, E. K. Macrum and choir at the opening of the First Presbyterian church.

A Series of Games.

An effort is being made for a series of games between the Y. M. C. A., Shamrocks and Columbians. The latter team will play the association team Saturday at West End park.

Will Entertain.

Mrs. Truman McCain, noble grand of the Daughters of Rebecca, will entertain the lodge at her home in East End on Tuesday evening next.

The Duke of York's Baby.

There is a report that the Duke of York's baby is deaf and dumb, but everybody will hope that it is not true, and that the royal scolding will talk and hear as well as anybody when the time comes. If not, the disability will not be without its alleviations. Only a few of his line have said anything good or heard anything good of themselves in six generations. One of his successors earned this epitaph, which he may deserve whether he talks or not:

Here lies Prince Fred,
Who was alive and is dead.
Had it been his father
Had lunch rather.
Had it been his brother
Somewhat than the other.
Had it been his sister
There'd be no one would have missed her.
Had it been his whole generation
All the better for the nation.
But as it's only Fred,
Who was alive and is dead,
There is nothing to be said.

—New York Tribune.

A Trick of the Huntsman.

During a visit to Montana a prominent Chicago gentleman went with a party just starting for a grand "hunt" for big game in the Yellowstone region. "He remarked to the leader, 'You cannot hunt in Yellowstone park.' 'Oh, no," said the leader. "We go outside the limits of the park, and if the game won't come to use we know how to manage to make it come." Such excursions are not uncommon, and it will not be strange if hungry Indians should occasionally imitate their white brethren.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

SENT OUT FOR PURE POLITICAL EFFECT.

Special to the Columbus Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 9.—General Bushnell was seen by your correspondent this morning at his office in the Warder, Bushnell & Glessner company's shops at Lagonda, and when questioned in regard to the story of a big cut being made in the wages of the employees, sent from here last night to a morning paper, he said:

"There is not a word of it true. Our men are receiving the same pay as last year with the exception of common laborers, who have been raised 10 cents in the past two weeks. No man was ordered to turn out in tomorrow's parade; they volunteered. A company was formed and the men seem very enthusiastic about it, both Democrats and Republicans.

"Everything is very pleasant out here this morning, all the men are at work and there is no evidence of any dissatisfaction or intended strike for higher wages. The report was started by those not in the employ of the Warder, Bushnell & Glessner company, and of course the farther it went the worse it got. The correspondent who sent out the false report colored it for a political effect, but that will not work for any one is at liberty to come and examine our books and compare our payrolls of last year and this year. The false report was started no doubt to put a damper on the opening tomorrow, but it will not be considered for a moment by my Republican friends throughout Ohio."

Home and Foreign Markets.

In estimating the relative importance of the home and foreign markets to our agriculturists it needs only be said that our corn crop alone nets the farmer a sum equal to our entire exports of manufacturing, forests, fisheries, mining and all other agriculture. Our corn crop in 1891 amounted to $386,439,228, our hay crop in 1894 to $468,578,321, our most valuable cotton crop in 1882 to $309,696,500.

Seldom do our aggregate imports and exports combined equal in value these three crops alone. The entire annual earnings of the industries of the country may be estimated at $15,000,000,000 annually, and of this our aggregated imports and exports form one-tenth. The other nine-tenths are the home market for American products and American labor.

A Typical American.

I congratulate the Republicans of Ohio that they have such a candidate as General Bushnell. He is a typical American citizen. By his own unaided efforts he has made his life pre-eminent successful. By countless deeds of charity he has made friends of all who love humanity, and by his patriotic service as a soldier and his lifelong devotion to the cause of Republicanism he has endeared himself to every member of the party of Lincoln, Grant and Blaine. He will prove a worthy successor to the greatest men who have filled the office for which he has been named, and give to the state one of the best administrations it has ever enjoyed. Let us rally to his support as one man.—Foraker at Springfield, Sept. 10.

A Winner.

It is not a matter of surprise that General Bushnell is developing into a famous and effective campaigner, for he has the faculty of succeeding at whatever he tries his hand.—Zanesville Courier.

RUSSIA HAS THE LEAD.

England Alarmed Over Her Rival's Growing Power in China.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—It is announced that, with the sanction of the czar, a Russian bank with very large capital will be opened for business soon at Peking with a branch at Shanghai. Some of the most prominent financiers and merchants in Russia are interested in the scheme, which has been secretly canvassed. The charter has just been issued. The enterprise is regarded as another indication of Russia's determination to wrest the commercial as well as the political supremacy in the far east from England. Trading emissaries of Russia have freely assisted the government of China with money, and have already penetrated to the interior of China where they are supplanting the British. An article which appears in The Globe indicates the alarm with which the English view the situation. This article says:

"Russia will unquestionably exert from China the right of way through Manchuria or the Trans-Siberian railway. A struggle for supremacy in Asia is upon us. If British influence does not go under altogether we must bear our part in the old masterful, English spirit, without delay. Thanks to our good relations with Japan, we ought to be able to work that power to our advantage politically and commercially."

McKinley on Foraker.
"This year, 1895, we are going to assume our rightful place. Mr. Foraker will take the seat of Mr. Brice. Ohio Republicans are united firmly and resolutely on that proposition. We intend to give Senator Sherman a Republican colleague. While the Democracy have not declared their preference in the open, it is well understood that Mr. Brice is their candidate. The Republicans have formally, officially and in hearty good faith, in state convention assembled, declared their preference for senator to be Joseph B. Foraker; and the choice of the convention will be ratified in November, and he will be elected to succeed Mr. Brice.

"The Republicans are to be congratulated that they have no rival candidates for the United States senatorship. We have no contest among ourselves. Our content is entirely with the Democratic party; who have but one candidate and he enjoys the great distinction of having the endorsement of the last Republican state convention, an endorsement given without division or dissent, unanimously and enthusiastically, and this distinction is one which, so far as I can recollect, is exceptional in the history of the Republican party in Ohio.

"I can not enjoin upon the people of the state too strongly or earnestly the importance of electing a Republican legislature, which shall elect a Republican United States senator. There is nothing before us this year at all to be compared in importance with our legislative election. The legislative ticket must have our special concern and command our undivided support. In the present political divisions of the senate of the United States, which are extremely close, a single senator may determine the political complexion of that body for years to come. If it is the purpose of the people of this country in the next national contest to give the Republican party full power, as I firmly believe, it is of the highest moment that we inaugurate that work here in Ohio, and this year, by making certain the election of a Republican United States senator. All differences and divisions, if any have heretofore existed, should be swept away now and forever, and all Republicans should rally as one man to secure a decisive majority in both branches of the legislature, which shall make certain and triumphant the election to the United States senate of ex-Governor Foraker, the declared choice of the Republicans of the state.—Governor McKinley at Springfield Sept. 10.
